

Creative and Christian!

Biblical Principles
Leen La Rivière

54 short devotions encourage Christians with artistic and creative gifts to become mature in their own spiritual understanding and to get to grips with the present-day culture. Use them on your own or in a group to stimulate lively discussion.

"This book is a welcome resource: it provides valuable inspiration for the spirit and fuels the imagination of the artist who is seeking to make Christ visible and to elevate the Giver of the gifts."

Sue Rinaldi, praise & worship leader, UK

"God is an artist! Look at his creation. Look at yourself! This book provides a historical and biblical foundation for creativity in all spheres of life. It has substance and flair. And it is easy to read!"

Gerald Coates, Pioneer team leader, speaker, author, broadcaster, UK

"Leen La Rivière has a lifetime of involvement with artists and it shows. This colourful collection of homilies weaves the testimony of scripture into a biblical foundation for Christian artistic activity."

William D Romanowski, Professor of Communication, Art & Science, Calvin College, author, US

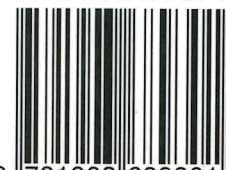

Leen La Rivière oversees the European Continentals and chairs the International Association of Christian Artists. He is a board member of the CNV (the national federation of Christian trades unions in the Netherlands). He has stimulated the rise and development of many arts organizations and groups around Europe, is the author of several books on the arts and spirituality, and today is the driving force behind the new European Academy for Culture and the Arts, offering post-academic, modular adult-learning courses and financed by the EU. He was knighted by Queen Beatrix of the Netherlands in 1999 for his contributions to the cultural life of the nation and his voluntary activities in the community. Leen is married to Ria and they have three grown-up sons.
